Re: EFRA Rule clarification

EFRA LS Off Road rules 2009

Because the new tire rule in the LS Off Road minutes for the season 09 excludes existing brands from participating at EFRA OR events, the tire rule regarding the dimensions and measurements is given back to the coming AGM to find a conclusion and clarify the situation.

As a technical rule change, effecting existing products on the market, the wheel and tyre dimension rule is only effective from 2010 anyway.

In the discussion about these dimensions it was mentioned by the proposer on request by the Section Chairmen, that nobody was effected. The first race meeting has shown, that this is not true. I therefore have to make the remark that the rule regarding the maximum wheel and tyre dimensions is not valid for 09 because it is a technical rule change.
